THE CANADA INSTITUTE of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars proudly marked its second anniversary in the fall of 2003. The Canada Institute was founded to explore current and emerging U.S.-Canada issues, to highlight the importance of the U.S.-Canada relationship—especially in Washington, and to increase knowledge about Canada among U.S. policymakers.

Canada’s profile among Americans remains much smaller than it should be in spite of the enormous trading relationship between the two countries. The Canada Institute, in the Wilson Center’s tradition of providing a non-partisan forum to encourage dialogue on the issues of the day, attempts to raise that profile by presenting an array of programs and publications to look at Canadian foreign policy and bilateral Canada-U.S. relations, trade policy and contentious trade issues, Canadian values and identity, and regional issues. The Canada Institute does not have a policy or research agenda, and as part of the Wilson Center, aims to provide a link between the world of ideas and the world of policy, with positive as well as critical views of issues.
Canada and North America

The United States and Canada remain each other’s largest trading partner, with more than $1.3 billion in goods and services flowing across the border each day, though Mexico is poised to overtake Canada’s position. Because of Canada’s critical role in the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), the Canada Institute has devoted efforts to investigating North American topics and Canada’s role within NAFTA and its relationship with Mexico. A June 2002 program, “Towards a North American Community?” looked at North American identity issues, which led to an extensive conference on “NAFTA at 10” in December 2002. That event brought together former president George Bush, former Canadian prime minister Brian Mulroney, and former Mexican president Carlos Salinas on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the trade agreement. “NAFTA at 10” also affirmed the good working relationship the Canada Institute has with two other Wilson Center programs, the Mexico Institute and the Project on America and the Global Economy.

Canada-U.S. Relations

One of the highlights of the past year was a two-day conference looking at the state of the Canada-U.S. relationship, co-sponsored with the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States. The Canada Institute convened six scholars who produced an article, each of which was critiqued by experts in the field. The final edited papers were published in a special issue of The American Review of Canadian Studies in the spring of 2003.

Another highlight was a second two-day conference investigating how Canada was perceived in Washington, as part of the BorderLines series that looked at Canada-U.S. relations in the post-9/11 world. The Canada Institute was able to bring 40 prominent Canadians to Washington to participate in the discussions. The Capitol Hill sessions gave a frank assessment of perceptions of Canada with the legislative and lobbying communities. Allan Gotlieb, former Canadian Ambassador to the United States, gave an important address, “A North American Community of Law,” which discussed how Canada might better protect its interest in the United States. The Canada Institute has established itself in a very short time as the key venue for dialogue and scholarship on Canada-U.S. relations in Washington. The level of visibility and scope of the discussions on Canadian themes has been especially impressive and has helped inform the Washington policy making community both on Capitol Hill and in the Administration. David Biette and his staff, as well as the scholars affiliated with the Canada Institute, are to be commended for their efforts to keep Canada front and center in Washington minds. I am pleased that the Canada Institute has begun to expand its programming to Canada, and on February 5, 2004, hosted the first Warren Goldring Annual Lecture on North American Issues in honor of its major donor.

None of this growth and success would be possible without the generous support of the Canada Institute’s sponsors. In addition to the contributions by several corporations and the Government of Canada, the Canada Institute has been the beneficiary of awards dinners in Toronto and Montreal, each supported by numerous interested corporations and individuals. The confidence shown by Canadians in the Canada Institute’s endeavors has been remarkable.

– Lee H. Hamilton, President and Director
Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
The Canada Institute aims to raise the profile of Canada in Washington—but also seeks to consider Canadian viewpoints of important issues and outside the capital.

Institute hosted a related live televised “town meeting” produced by TVOntario’s “Studio 2” to discuss Canada–U.S. relations and the Iraq crisis.

Scholars
Two public policy scholars affiliated with the Canada Institute were in residence at the Wilson Center during the year. Stephen Clarkson, professor of political economy at the University of Toronto, came to research “Continental Governance in North America after NAFTA” from January through April 2003. Charles-Philippe David was the first recipient of the Fulbright-Woodrow Wilson Center Distinguished Chair in Canada-United States Relations; he holds the Raoul-Dandurand Chair of Strategic and Diplomatic Studies at the Université du Québec à Montréal (UQAM) and was at the Center to research “Changes in Foreign Policy Decision-Making under the Clinton Administration.”

Events: Washington and Canada
This report contains the full list of all of the events the Canada Institute produced or co-sponsored for fiscal year 2003 (October 2002 through September 2003). There is also an outline of the programs for 2002.

As noted above, the Canada Institute aims to raise the profile of Canada in Washington—but also seeks to consider Canadian viewpoints of important issues outside the capital. While there is little argument that most Americans are woefully ignorant of their northern neighbor, Canadian knowledge of the bilateral relationship is not always what it might be.

To that end, the Canada Institute is launching an effort in Canada to explore relations between Canada and the United States. An annual public lecture series, the “Warren Goldring Lecture on Canada-U.S. Issues,” was launched in Toronto in February 2004. Leon Panetta, former White House Chief of Staff and former Member of Congress, spoke on “The Challenge in Washington: Governing by Leadership or Crisis.” Other events will be held in Toronto and other cities, starting with a conference in December 2003 in Montreal with UQAM’s Raoul Dandurand Chair and its U.S. Studies Program that investigated the effect the media have on the development of U.S. foreign policy and the implications for Canada. In order to effectively coordinate activity in Canada, the Canada Institute has engaged the services of a consultant in Toronto to oversee and manage these efforts.

Support
Nothing undertaken by the Wilson Center’s Canada Institute would be possible without the extraordinary generosity of its donors, in particular those Canadians who see the importance of a strong bilateral relationship.

The Canada Institute is the grateful beneficiary of the Woodrow Wilson Award Dinners that have been held in Canada. The 2003 dinner, held in Montreal, honored The Right Honorable Brian Mulroney who was presented the Woodrow Wilson Award for Public Service, and the Honorable Paul Desmarais, who received the Woodrow Wilson Award for Corporate Citizenship. In 2002, the Wilson Center presented the Woodrow Wilson Award for Public Service to the Honorable Allan Gotlieb, and the Woodrow Wilson Award for Corporate Citizenship to Peter Munk.

On March 1, 2004, the Wilson Center will honor Richard Haskayne, Chairman of TransCanada with the Woodrow Wilson Award for Corporate Citizenship, and the Honorable Peter Lougheed, former premier of Alberta, with the Woodrow Wilson Award for Public Service. The Wilson Center’s Development office has been extraordinarily helpful to the Canada Institute.

Conclusion
In addition to the programs listed above that will take place in Canada this fiscal year, the Canada Institute has many events planned for Washington, including a program on the immediate challenges for NAFTA, another on defense and security relations in North America, and an analysis of the spring federal election in Canada.

The Canada Institute is maturing; its programming and publications will continue to increase with the engagement of a program associate in Washington and the support of the Toronto-based consultant. The Institute will also continue in the Wilson Center’s tradition of encouraging dialogue on a select group of issues important to the understanding of Canada and the Canada-U.S. relationship.

Canada Institute Mission Statement

The mission of The Canada Institute is:
• to explore current and emerging U.S.-Canada issues;
• to highlight the importance of the U.S.-Canada relationship; and
• to increase knowledge about Canada among U.S. policymakers

The Canada Institute’s work will focus on four main program areas:

Canadian Foreign Policy
Canada-U.S. relations
Consequences of U.S.-Canada-Mexico economic system post-NAFTA
Continental defense
Border and Security Issues

Trade
Sectoral issues
Dispute resolution

Canadian Values and Identity
Canadian attitudes towards the United States and how they affect public policy
Cultural and political differences
Regulation and federalism as they affect policy

Regional Issues
Provincial issues affecting bilateral relations
Sub-national governmental relations
Quebec and institutions particular to Quebec
Canada Institute Programs

October 2002 through September 2003

Event summary for each event available on the Canada Institute web site, www.wilsoncenter.org/canada.

U.S. Foreign Policy and Canada-U.S. Relations
October 10, 2002
Remarks by the Honorable Slade Gorton, former U.S. Senator (R-Washington)
Luncheon address in Calgary
With Woodrow Wilson Center Development Office

The Politics of the “Canadian Way”: Branding the Canadian Identity
October 17, 2002
Richard Nimijean, Carleton University

The State of the Canada-United States Relationship
October 31 and November 1, 2002

Overview, United States-Canada Relations
Author: John Herd Thompson, Duke University
Discussant: Jeffrey Simpson, The Globe and Mail

Environment
Author: Debora VanNijnatten, Wilfrid Laurier University
Discussant: Jean Melious, Western Washington University

Business and Economic Relations
Author: Maureen Molot, Carleton University
Discussant: Mark Kasoff, Bowling Green State University

Cultural Issues
Author: Christopher Maule, Carleton University
Discussant: Eliza Patterson, international trade lawyer

Security and Border Issues
Author: Sharon Jones, SUNY Cortland
Discussant: Christopher Sands, Center for Strategic and International Studies

Defense Issues
Author: Dwight N. Mason, former U.S. chairman, Permanent Joint Board on Defense, Canada-United States
Discussant: Stéphane Roussel, Université du Québec à Montréal

Five of the six papers were published in a special issue of The American Review of Canadian Studies in Spring 2003.

The Honourable Bill Graham: Minister of Foreign Affairs of Canada
November 8, 2002
Two-way video-conference from the EnviReform conference at the Munk Centre for International Studies at the University of Toronto.
The End of Canada?
November 21, 2002
Mel Hurtig, Canadian publisher and author of The Vanishing Country: Is It Too Late to Save Canada?

NAFTA at 10: Progress, Potential, and Precedents
December 9 and 10, 2002
cosponsored with the Wilson Center's Mexico Institute and the Project on America and the Global Economy, with the Center for Strategic and International Studies, Texas A&M University, and others

NAFTA Past, Present and Future
Addresses by
President George H.W. Bush
Prime Minister Brian Mulroney
President Carlos Salinas

NAFTA at 10:Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow—Lessons Learned and Unmet Challenges
Stephen Randall, University of Calgary (chair)
Gustavo Vega, El Colegio de México
Michael Hart, Carleton University
Gary Hufbauer, Institute for International Economics
The Honorable Robert Mosbacher, Mosbacher Energy (commentator)
Peter Smith, University of California, San Diego (commentator)

Future Directions for NAFTA: The Possibility of Closer Economic, Political, and Social Ties
Thomas F “Mac” McLarty III, Kissinger-McLarty Associates (chair)
Rafael Fernández de Castro, Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México
Wendy Dobson, University of Toronto
Jeff Faux, Economic Policy Institute
Charles F Doran, Johns Hopkins University Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (commentator)

NAFTA as a Laboratory for Future Trade Agreements
David Edgell, University of Missouri-Kansas City/MMG Worldwide (chair)
Kishore S. Gawande, Texas A&M University
Antonio Ortiz Mena, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas
Daniel Schwanen, Institute for Research on Public Policy
Stephen Farrar, Guardian Glass (commentator)

NAFTA and Getting Globalization Right: Poverty, Inequality, and Trade
Joseph Tulchin, Woodrow Wilson Center (chair)
Carlos Heredia, Mexican Council on Foreign Relations
Albert Fishlow, Columbia University
Alan Alexandroff, University of Toronto
Sebastian Mallaby, The Washington Post (commentator)

Comments on NAFTA
Bertin Côté, Canadian Embassy
Mario Chacón, Mexican Embassy
James Derham, U.S. Department of State

NAFTA and a North American Labor Market: Migration, Wages, and Labor Rights
Maria Echaveste, Nueva Vista/United Farm Workers (chair)
Frank Bean, University of California, Irvine
Phillip Martin, University of California, Davis
Sidney Weintraub, Center for Strategic and International Studies (commentator)

NAFTA: Trade, Economic Integration, and Security
George Haynal, Canadian Council of Chief Executives (chair)
Lorraine Eden, Texas A&M University
Guadalupe González, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas
Thomas Courchene, Institute for Research on Public Policy and Queen’s University
Irwin Altschuler, Manatt Jones Global Strategies LLC (commentator)
NAFTA: Democracy, Sovereignty, and the Challenge of a North American Community
Peter Hakim, Inter-American Dialogue (chair)
Anthony de Palma, New York Times
James Robinson, Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México
Ambassador Gordon Giffin, McKenna Long & Aldridge (commentator)

A “NAFTA at 10” summary publication will be published in spring 2004.

Liberalism: Conscience and Confidence
February 4, 2003
A roundtable discussion with Pierre Pettigrew, Canada’s Minister for International Trade

Canada and the United States: Where Do We Go After Whatever Happens?
February 20, 2003
A roundtable discussion with the Right Honorable Joe Clark, Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada, and former Prime Minister of Canada, on Canada and the impending war in Iraq

BorderLines: Canada in North America
February 27 and 28, 2003
A look at Canada–U.S. relations from the United States

Canada and Borders, Canada and U.S. Security
Timothy C. Woodcock, William S. Cohen Center for International Policy and Commerce, University of Maine (chair)
The Honorable Susan Collins, United States Senate (R-Maine)
Peter Boehm, Minister (Political and Public Affairs), Canadian Embassy

How Does Congress View Canada?
Les Munson, Former Senior Staff Member, Senate Foreign Relations Committee (chair)
Bob Van Wicklin, Legislative Director and Press Secretary to Representative Amo Houghton (R-New York)
Darin Beffa, Legislative Assistant to Representative George Nethercutt, Jr. (R-Washington)
Paul Frazer, Murphy Frazer & Selfridge
“A Better Way to Conduct Canadian-U.S. Relations”
Luncheon address by The Honorable Allan Gotlieb, former Canadian Ambassador to the United States
Alan Broadbent, Chairman, Avana Capital (chair)

Introduction and Overview of the BorderLines Series
Janice Gross Stein, University of Toronto

How Is Canada Viewed in Washington?
Peter Stephens, The Washington Center (chair)
David Massell, University of Vermont
John Ibbitson, The Globe and Mail
Jim Derham, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs, Department of State
Maryscott Greenwood, McKenna Long & Aldridge and Executive Director of the Canadian American Business Council

Canadian Successes in the United States
David Biette, Woodrow Wilson Center (chair)
Adèle Hurley, University of Toronto
Jim LeBlanc, S&H/LeBlanc International

Defense and Security: What Should Canada’s Role Be?
Dwight Mason, Senior Associate, Center for Strategic and International Studies (chair)
Jack David, U.S. Chairman, Permanent Joint Board on Defense, Canada-United States
Gregory D. Foster, Industrial College of the Armed Forces, National Defense University
Bruce Swartz, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, U.S. Department of Justice

Resource Issues: Water and Energy
John Higginbotham, Canadian Centre for Management Development (chair)
James G. Chandler, International Joint Commission
Joseph M. Dukert, Independent Energy Consultant

Remarks by The Honorable John LaFalce, former Member of Congress
Peter White, Hollinger Corporation (chair)

Trade and Economic Issues: Is a Grand Bargain Feasible?
Brian Lee Crowley, Atlantic Institute for Market Studies (chair)
John Simpson, American Association of Exporters and Importers
Bill Merkin, Strategic Policy
Sidney Weintraub, Center for Strategic and International Studies
Canada in North America
David Biette, Woodrow Wilson Center (chair)
Christopher Sands, Center for Strategic and International Studies
Carlos Rico, Minister (Political Affairs), Mexican Embassy

Family Feud? America and Its Allies at a Crossroads
February 27, 2003
Live televised “town meeting” from the Atrium of the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade
Center on Canada’s role in the impending war in Iraq.
Co-sponsored by TVOntario’s “Studio 2,” MHz Networks, the Wilson Center’s “Dialogue” program, and the Canada Institute.
Host Steve Paikin was subsequently nominated for a Canadian Gemini award in the “best host or interviewer in a news information or talk program or series” category.

Guests on the program included:
David Frum, author of The Right Man: The Surprise Presidency of George W. Bush
Jack Layton, leader of the New Democratic Party of Canada
Maryscott “Scotty” Greenwood, Executive
Director of the Canadian American Business
Council and former Chief of Staff at the United States Embassy in Canada
John O’Sullivan, Editor-in-Chief, United Press International
John Duffy, Liberal Party of Canada strategist and principal at StrategyCorp
Susan E. Rice, The Brookings Institution

Uncle Sam and Us: Globalization,
Neoconservatism, and the Canadian State
April 3, 2003
Panel discussion and book launch
Stephen Clarkson, University of Toronto and public policy scholar at the Wilson Center
Robert Pastor, American University
Teresina Gutiérrez Haces, Universidad Nacional
Autónoma de México

The Future of the Parti Québécois and the Sovereignty Movement in Quebec
April 29, 2003
Daniel Turp, Professor of Law, Université de
Montréal and recently-elected Member of the Quebec National Assembly (Parti Québécois)
co-sponsored with the Canadian American Business Council

Woodrow Wilson Awards, Montreal
May 13, 2003
Presentation of the Woodrow Wilson Award for Public Service to the Right Honorable Brian Mulroney, C.P., C.C., LL.D., former Prime Minister of Canada, and the Woodrow Wilson Award for Corporate Citizenship to the Honorable Paul
Desmarais, P.C., C.C., Chairman of the Executive Committee, Power Corporation of Canada
With the Woodrow Wilson Center Development Office
Canadian Anti-Americanism: Before and After 9/11
May 22, 2003
Reginald C. Stuart, Mount Saint Vincent University

The Sri Lankan Peace Process: A View from the Inside
May 29, 2003
An off-the-record discussion with David R. Cameron, University of Toronto co-sponsored with the Wilson Center’s Asia Program

Is Canada Sleeping? Re-Examining Canada’s Role in the World
July 17, 2003
Andrew Cohen, Carleton University and author of
While Canada Slept: How We Lost Our Place in the World
Michael K. Hawes, Canada-U.S. Fulbright Program and Queen’s University (on leave) co-sponsored with the Canadian American Business Council

A Single Payer, Universal Health System? Current U.S. Proposals and the Canadian Model
September 23, 2003
Gregory P. Marchildon, University of Regina and former executive director of the Commission on the Future of Health Care in Canada (the Romanow Commission)
Pierre-Gerlier Forest, Université Laval and Health Canada
Internal Events

Reflections on the Current State of the Canada/U.S. Relationship

November 7, 2002
Brown bag luncheon talk for Wilson Center scholars and staff on Canada’s role in the fight against terrorism, border security, and the bilateral economic and commercial relationship
Peter Boehm, Minister for Political and Public Affairs, Canadian Embassy

New Brunswick Social Hour

January 24, 2003
Weekly Wilson Center social hour hosted by
The Government of New Brunswick
Jim McKay, Assistant Deputy Minister, Federal-Provincial Relations, Government of New Brunswick

Canada-U.S. Relations After 9-11

February 13, 2003
Briefing for Queen’s University public policy graduate students
Robert Litwak, Woodrow Wilson Center (“Rogue States”)
Christopher Sands, Center for Strategic and International Studies (“Canada-U.S. Relations”)
Stephen Clarkson, University of Toronto and public policy scholar at the Wilson Center (“North American Governance after 9-11”)
David Biette, Woodrow Wilson Center (“Canada Seen from the United States”)

North American Issues

June 30, 2003
Briefing for American University Summer Institute for North American Studies
Andrew Selee, Mexico Institute, Woodrow Wilson Center
Andre Belelieu, Center for Strategic and International Studies
Raúl Benitez Manaut, Researcher, Centro de Investigaciones sobre América del Norte (CISAN), Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México and public policy scholar at the Wilson Center
David Biette, Canada Institute, Woodrow Wilson Center
External talks

Young Presidents Organization, Ontario Chapter
January 29, 2003
Canadian Embassy
“Canada in Washington”
Panel with Barrie McKenna (Globe and Mail) and Ian Fergusson (Congressional Research Service)

Canadian Institute of International Affairs
March 30, 2003
2003 Foreign Policy Conference: “Canada Now: Fading Power or Future Power?”
“How Is Canada Perceived Abroad?”
Panel with Evan Potter (University of Ottawa) and Daryl Copeland (Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade)

Department of Finance
April 24, 2003
Cornwall, Ontario
Policy Workshop for Deputy Ministers and Assistant Deputy Ministers
“Canada–U.S. Relations: Where Are the New Boundaries?”
Panel with Don Campbell (CAE), Jonathan Fried (Department of Finance), Wendy Dobson (University of Toronto), and Richard Harris (Simon Fraser University)

Migration Policy Institute
July 2, 2003
“Does ‘Smarter’ Lead to Safer? An Assessment of the Border Accords with Canada and Mexico”
Program with Deborah Waller Meyers and Demetrios Papadametrio (Migration Policy Institute) and Armand Peschard-Sverdrup (Mexico Project, Center for Strategic and International Studies)
Past Canada Institute Programs
October 2001 through September 2002

Hard Choices, Soft Law: Combining Trade, Environment, and Social Cohesion in Global Governance
November 8, 2001
Videoconference: the Second Annual EnviReform Conference with the Munk Centre for International Studies, University of Toronto
(the Wilson Center's first two-way video conference)

Global Land Mine Elimination and the Ottawa Convention: Canadian Foreign Policy at Work
February 15, 2002
Christopher Kirkey, Professor of Canadian Studies and Political Science, Bridgewater State College and Canadian Mine Action Scholar-in-Residence

Brand America and Global Trade Issues Post 9/11
February 20, 2002
Speakers included Angus Reid, Institute for Global Studies at the University of British Columbia and Chairman, Canada Institute Advisory Board
(with WilsonAlliances)

E-government: Privacy Concerns and Citizen Engagement
March 7, 2002
Briefing for Canadian Provincial Legislators

North American Relations after 9/11
March 11, 2002
Briefing for Canadian House of Commons’ Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs and International Trade (Jean Augustine, George Baker, John Duncan, John Harvard, Marlene Jennings, Francine Lalonde, Diane Marleau, Keith Martin, Brian Pallister, Bernard Patry, Svend Robinson)

The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms at Twenty: The Ongoing Search for Balance Between Individual and Community Rights
April 2, 2002
The Honorable Stéphane Dion, President of the Queen’s Privy Council for Canada, and Canadian Minister of Intergovernmental Affairs
(Director’s Forum)

Globalization and North American Federalism: The Expanding Role of Canadian Provinces and U.S. States in the International Economy
April 16, 2002
Earl H. Fry, Professor of Political Science and Endowed Professor of Canadian Studies, Brigham Young University

Toward a North American Community?
June 11, 2002
with the Wilson Center’s Project on America and the Global Economy (PAGE), and the Mexico Institute of the Latin American Program

Security and Border Management
September 17, 2002
Briefing for Canadian Provincial Legislators with the Centre for Legislative Exchange
Speakers included the Hon. John J. LaFalce, Member of Congress (New York, 29th) and the Hon. Lee H. Hamilton, Director of the Wilson Center

A Woman’s Place is in the House: A Comparison of Women in Politics in the United States and Canada
September 24, 2002
with the Wilson Center’s Division of United States Studies
Speakers included the Hon. Carolyn Bennett, Member of Parliament; (the late) Rosemary Brown, former Member of Legislative Assembly (British Columbia); the Hon. Eleanor Holmes Norton, Congresswoman (District of Columbia)
Donors

Patrons

The George Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University
Canadian American Business Council
Center for Strategic and International Studies
CN
Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada/Ministère des Affaires étrangères et du Commerce international du Canada
The Globe and Mail
Institute for Research on Public Policy
Ipsos-Reid
National Post
Operation Dialogue
Power Corporation of Canada
Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center

Supporters

Abitibi Consolidated, Inc.
Adalis
Alexis Nihon Group
Mr. G. Allen Andreas
Aon Reed Stenhouse
Archer Daniels Midland
Arthur Andersen, LLP
Axor
Banque de Développement du Canada
Banque Laurentienne
Banque National du Canada
Barrick Gold Corporation
Mr. Philippe de Gaspé Beaubien
Bell Canada
BioQuébec
Blake, Cassels and Graydon
BMO Nesbitt Burns
Bombardier, Inc.
Ms. Jacqueline L. Boutet CAE, Inc.
Le Cabinet de Relations Publiques National
Campbell Strategies
Canadian Bankers Association
Canadian Council of Chief Executives
Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce
Canadian National Railway Company
Le Groupe Canam Manac Capital Canada, Ltd.
Capital GVR, Inc.
CEIM
CIBC Mellon
Cirque du Soleil
Citigroup Global Markets Canada, Inc.
Club de Hockey Canadien
Cogeco, Inc.
Computer Sciences Corporation of Canada
Concordia University
Couche-Tard, Inc.
Credit Suisse First Boston Canada
Mr. Bernard Crick
Mr. and Mrs. Elvio DelZotto
Dancosse Brisebois
Desjardins-Laurentienne Domgroup, Ltd.
Domtar, Inc.
Donnelgan Investments
Donner Canadian Foundation
DWPV
Mr. N. Murray Edwards
Envirocycle Systems, Inc.
Ernst & Young, LLP
Execure
Four Seasons Hotels and Resorts, Ltd.
Mr. Claude Frenette
The Gazette
George Weston Limited
Gestion PDM, Inc.
GMP
Groupe Cossette
Communication
Groupe Germain
Groupe Montreal
Guillevin International
GVM L’Agence, Inc.
Harley-Davidson Montréal
Hydro One, Inc.
IATA
Imperial Tobacco Canada
Institut économique de Montréal
Jolliet Energy
Resources/Power Corporation of Canada
Julius Baer Investment
Mr. Joseph Kruger II
Sandra and Leo Kolber Foundation
KPMG Canada
Lamarre Consultants
Mr. and Mrs. René Lépine Sr.
Magna International
Manulife Financial
Marsh
Mr. Stephen Marshall
McCain Foods Foundation
McCarthy Tétrault, LLP
Merrill Lynch, Canada
Montréal Alouettes
Musée des Beaux-Arts de Montréal
National Post
Nestlé Canada
Neurochem, Inc.
NM Rothschild & Sons Canada, Ltd.
Norlien Foundation
Northland Power, Inc.
Ogilvy Renault
Onex Corporation
Ontario Power Generation
Peter Munk Charitable Trust
Picchio International
Picchio Pharma, Inc.
Port de Montréal
La Presse, Ltée.
PricewaterhouseCoopers Québec, Inc.
Quebecor World, Inc.
RBC Investissements
Mr. Gerald Reagan
Mr. Sean Riley
Réno-Dépôt, Inc.
Royal Bank of Canada Financial Group
Scotiabank
Sears
Sherritt International
Simon, Boivin, Debutre & Touche
SNC-Lavalin, Inc.
Standard Life
Nathan Steinberg Family Foundation
Mr. and Mrs. David M. Stewart
Stikeman Elliot
Sun Life Financial
TD Bank Financial Group
Telemision Information, Inc.
Mr. William Thorsell
Toronto General and Western Hospital Foundation
Torys, LLP
Transcontinental
Trizec Canada
Mr. André Tremblay
UBS Global Asset Management
UBS Warburg
United Way of Greater Toronto
Université de Montréal
University of Toronto
VIA Rail Canada
WM Intersan, Inc.
XPV Capital
Public Policy Scholars

Stephen Clarkson, Professor of Political Economy, University of Toronto
Project: Continental Governance in North America after NAFTA
January through April 2003

Charles-Philippe David, Fulbright-Woodrow Wilson Center Distinguished Chair in Canada-United States Relations; Raoul Dandurand Chair of Strategic and Diplomatic Studies, Université du Québec à Montréal
Project: Changes in Foreign Policy Decision-Making under the Clinton Administration
February through May 2003

Staff

David Biette, Director
Katherine Ostrye, Program Assistant (starting June 2, 2003)
Renée Latour, Program Assistant (until May 30, 2003)
Melissa Bell, Intern (June through August 2003)
Cheryl Hoffmann, Program Consultant (Toronto)

Financial Statement

The Canada Institute of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars receives a very limited federal appropriation for a few conferences each year. The bulk of its funding comes from individual and corporate donations, a gift from the Government of Canada, as well as the proceeds of Woodrow Wilson Awards dinners held in Canada.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total Revenue</th>
<th>$829,780</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Expenses</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salary and Benefits</td>
<td>$145,620</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Travel (Program and Guests)</td>
<td>35,600</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Program and Related Expenses</td>
<td>252,324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Printing and Supplies</td>
<td>5,732</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total Expenses</td>
<td>$439,276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Net</td>
<td>$390,504</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
Lee H. Hamilton, President and Director

Board of Trustees
Joseph B. Gildenorn, Chair; David A. Metzner, Vice Chair. Public Members: James H. Billington, Librarian of Congress; John W. Carlin, Archivist of the United States; Bruce Cole, Chair, National Endowment for the Humanities; Roderick R. Paige, Secretary, U.S. Department of Education; Colin L. Powell, Secretary, U.S. Department of State; Lawrence M. Small, Secretary, Smithsonian Institution; Tommy G. Thompson, Secretary, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Private Citizen Members: Joseph A. Cari, Jr., Carol Cartwright, Donald E. Garcia, Bruce S. Gelb, Daniel L. Lamaute, Tamala L. Longaberger, Thomas R. Reedy.

Wilson Council

Canada Institute Advisory Board
Angus Reid, Co-Chair
Don Carty, Co-Chair
Warren Goldring, Vice Chair
John Hunkin
Robert J. Foster
Luc Lavoie
Gerald R. Tremblay, Q.C.
John Wright

U.S. Ambassadors
Hon. Paul Cellucci (2001–)

Canadian Ambassadors
Hon. Michael Kergin (2000–)

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
One Woodrow Wilson Plaza
1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
www.wilsoncenter.org/canada
Canada@wwic.si.edu
T (202) 691-4270
F (202) 691-4001