EU ENLARGEMENT AND THE ENVIRONMENT: Institutional Change and Environmental Policy in Central and Eastern Europe
JoAnn Carmin and Stacy D. VanDeveer

“A most timely and provocative collection of studies... Challenging much conventional wisdom, this volume insightfully argues that EU enlargement eastward provides new opportunities for an overall rethinking of environmental policies and issues. Highly recommended to all those interested in the future of united Europe.”
--Vladimir Tismaneanu, University of Maryland, College Park

“As much as EU Enlargement and the Environment depicts accession as a prime motivator for environmental reforms in CEE, it raises key questions about CEE countries’ capacities to make the transition to an ‘era of implementation’ and, indeed, whether successful implementation of EU norms equates with a clean and healthy environment for CEE and Europe as a whole.”
--Matthew R. Auer, Indiana University

EU Enlargement and the Environment focuses attention on key environmental and institutional changes associated with eastern expansion of the European Union, assessing and challenging prevailing views about the outcomes and processes of this historic development. Looking at four central themes -- capacity changes and limitations, the EU’s mixed messages and conflicting priorities, non-state actor roles and developments, and the exchange of ideas and information – the volume shows that enlargement will change the EU, not just make it bigger, and that EU officials and programs are improving aspects of environmental policy in CEE countries even as they are making others less sustainable.

Part I. EU Enlargement, Institutions and Environmental Politics
Enlarging EU Environments: Central and Eastern Europe from Transition to Accession, JoAnn Carmin and Stacy D. VanDeveer; Environmental Protection in an Expanding European Community: Lessons from Past Accessions, Miranda Schreurs; Differential Effects of Enlargement on EU Environmental Governance, Ingmar von Homeyer; Environmental Implications of Eastern Enlargement: The End of EU Progressive Environmental Policy?, Petr Jeblika and Andrew Tickle

Part II. Enlarging Environmental Policy Challenges
EU Accession and Legal Change: Accomplishments and Challenges in the Czech Case, Eva Kružíková; Europeanising Hungarian Waste Policies: Progress or Regression?, Zsuzsa Gille; EU Enlargement and Sustainable Rural Development in Central and Eastern Europe, Andreas Beckmann and Henrik Dissing; Nuclear Power and EU Enlargement: The Case of Temelin, Regina Axelrod

Part III. Civil Society in an Enlarged EU
Eurocratising Enlargement? EU Elites and NGO Participation in East Central European Environmental Policy, Lars K. Hallstrom; Further up the Learning Curve: NGOs from Transition to Brussels, Ruth Greenspan Bell; Setting Agendas and Shaping Activism: EU Influence on Central European Environmental Movements, Barbara Hicks

Part IV. Environmental Outcomes: From State Socialism to EU Enlargement
Environmental Pasts/ Environmental Futures in Post-Socialist Europe, Petr Pavlišek and John Pickles; Market Liberalisation and Sustainability in Transition: Trends and Turning Points in Central and Eastern Europe, Sandra O. Archibald, Luana E. Banu, and Zbigniew Bochniarz; EU Enlargement and the Environment: Six Challenges, John Kramer; Assessing Conventional Wisdom: Environmental Challenges and Opportunities beyond Eastern Accession, Stacy D. VanDeveer and JoAnn Carmin

Published by Routledge, January 2005
Previously published as a special issue of Environmental Politics
Cloth: ISBN 0415347882 / $105.00; Paperback: ISBN 0415351863 / $34.95