2018 Election Series 2018 BRAZILIAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

President-elect: Jair Bolsonaro (PSL)

- Born March 21, 1955 (age 63)
- Ex-army captain and 7-term federal deputy for Rio de Janeiro
- Known for his controversial social views and far-right political beliefs
- Campaign prioritized public security, corruption, and the economy
- Vice-President-elect: General Antônio Hamilton Mourão (PRTB)

Results by State

Bolsonaro (55.1% of vote) Haddad (44.9% of vote)

> Bolsonaro won 4 of 5 regions, only losing in the Northeast

Vote by Urban Demographic

Lowest Income Cities (R$200/month and below)

Bolsonaro (5%) Haddad (95%)

Majority-white Cities

Highest Income Cities (R$350/month and higher)

Bolsonaro (90%) Haddad (10%)

Majority-non-white cities

Null and blank votes reached 9.4%, a post-dictatorship record in second-round voting and 90% increase from 2014.

This was the first election since the 2015 ban on corporate campaign contributions

Created by Chris Harden, Woodrow Wilson Center, Brazil Institute Source: TSE, IBGE, ebiografia