

Links to maps used in Betsy Baker Wilson Center “Governing the North” panel, September 21, 2010

Industrial Development in the Arctic, Philippe Rekacewicz, UNEP/GRID-Arendal:

Sources United States Geological Survey (USGS); AMAP 1997, 1998 and 2002; CAFF, 2001; UNEP/World Conservation Monitoring Centre (WCMC); United States Energy Information Administration (IEA); Barents Euro-Arctic Council (BEAC); Comité professionnel du pétrole (CPDP), Paris; Institut français du pétrole (IFP), Paris; National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA); The World Bank; Alaska Department of Environmental conservation, Division of Spill Prevention and Response; United States Coast Guard (USCG).

<http://maps.grida.no/go/graphic/industrial-development-in-the-arctic>

Demography of indigenous peoples of the Arctic based on linguistic groups

Map Credit: Sources Adopted from map by W.K. Dallmann published in Arctic Human Development Report (2004). Data and information compiled by W.K. Dallmann, Norwegian Polar Institute and P. Schweitzer, University of Alaska Fairbanks

<http://maps.grida.no/go/graphic/demography-of-indigenous-peoples-of-the-arctic-based-on-linguistic-groups1>

Administrative subdivision of the Arctic, Map credit: W. Dallman, Norsk Polarinstitut (UNEP GRID/Arendal): http://arctic-council.org/filearchive/indigenous_peoples_of_the_arctic_countries

International Bathymetric Chart of the Arctic Ocean:

<http://www.ngdc.noaa.gov/mgg/bathymetry/arctic/>

UNEP Grid-Arendal Home Page (Environmental Knowledge for Change - see Maps and Graphics): <http://www.grida.no/>

Weblog: Arctic Mapping and the Law of the Sea: <http://arctic-healy-baker-2008.blogspot.com/>