

Woodrow Wilson International
Center for Scholars

The Quest for Self-Reliant Security in the Two Koreas, Then and Now

International Symposium Organized by The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
Kyungnam University, Graduate School of North Korean Studies
With generous support from the Korea Foundation

September 6, 2006
Woodrow Wilson Center, Washington DC

Program

- 9:00 Registration, Continental Breakfast
- 9:30 Opening Remarks
Robert Hathaway, Director, Asia Program, Woodrow Wilson Center
Christian Ostermann, Director, History and Public Policy Program, Woodrow Wilson Center
Joun-yung Sun, Chair Professor, Graduate School of North Korean Studies,
Kyungnam University
- 10:00-12:00 Panel 1: *The 1968 Blue House Raid and Seizure of the USS Pueblo:
Historical Evidence on the Alliance Dilemmas of Both Sides
- Chair: Kathryn Weathersby, Senior Associate, History and Public Policy
Program, Woodrow Wilson Center
- Presenters:
Bernd Schaefer, Research Fellow, German Historical Institute
DPRK Logic: The Blue House Raid and the Seizure of the USS Pueblo
Kihl-Jae Ryoo, Associate Professor, Kyungnam University, and Jong Dae
Shin, Director for Planning, Kyungnam University
ROK View of its Alliance Dilemma in the Wake of DPRK Provocations
- Discussants:
Gregg Brazinsky, Assistant Professor of History and International Affairs, The George Washington University
Miryang Youn, Public Policy Scholar, Woodrow Wilson Center, former Deputy Director General, Office of South-North Dialogue, ROK Ministry of Unification
- 12:00-1:30 Lunch

1:30-3:30

Panel 2: The Cold War Era Search for a Self-Reliant Security Posture in Seoul and Pyongyang

Chair: Joun-yung Sun, Graduate School of North Korean Studies, Kyungnam University

Presenters:

Sang Yoon Ma, Assistant Professor, The Catholic University, Seoul
Alliance for Self-Reliance: South Korea's Security Policy in the Early 1970s
Kathryn Weathersby, Senior Associate, History and Public Policy Program, Woodrow Wilson Center
North Korea's Efforts to Acquire Nuclear Weapons Technology, 1962-86

Discussants:

Robert Wampler, Research Fellow, National Security Archive
Kongdan Oh, Research Staff Member, Institute for Defense Analyses

3:30-3:45

Break

3:45-5:45

Panel 3: Inter-Korean Relations and the ROK/US Alliance Today

Chair: Mark Mohr, Program Associate, Asia Program, Woodrow Wilson Center

Presenters:

Joun-yung Sun, Chair Professor, Graduate School of North Korean Studies, Kyungnam University
David Straub, President, Northeast Asia Associates, former Director of Korean Affairs, Department of State

5:45

Reception