

ARGENTINES' OPINIONS ON TRADE, FOREIGN POLICY, AND GLOBAL ISSUES

1 out of every 2 Argentines considers the United States to be the

LEADING WORLD POWER

15%
China leads Russia in the battle for second place.

6%

7 out of 10 Argentines believe that the United States is as or more important than it was 10 years ago...

... Among those who believe that U.S. influence has stayed the same or increased, most believe this harms the rest of the world.

In general, Argentines view major foreign powers positively..

..but the United States receives the most negative ratings.

Argentines believe that Argentina should prioritize relations with:

The United States 29%

Brazil 21%

China 21%

Argentines' Opinions of President Donald J. Trump

2 out of every 3 Argentines have a negative opinion of the U.S. president.

People aged 18 to 29 are more likely than older Argentines to disapprove of Trump.

Macri's supporters are more likely than his opponents to approve of Trump.

What should be the guiding principle of Argentina's foreign policy?

Argentines are divided.

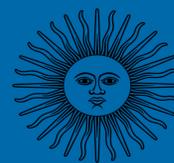

Similar proportions of respondents emphasize:

commercial advantages

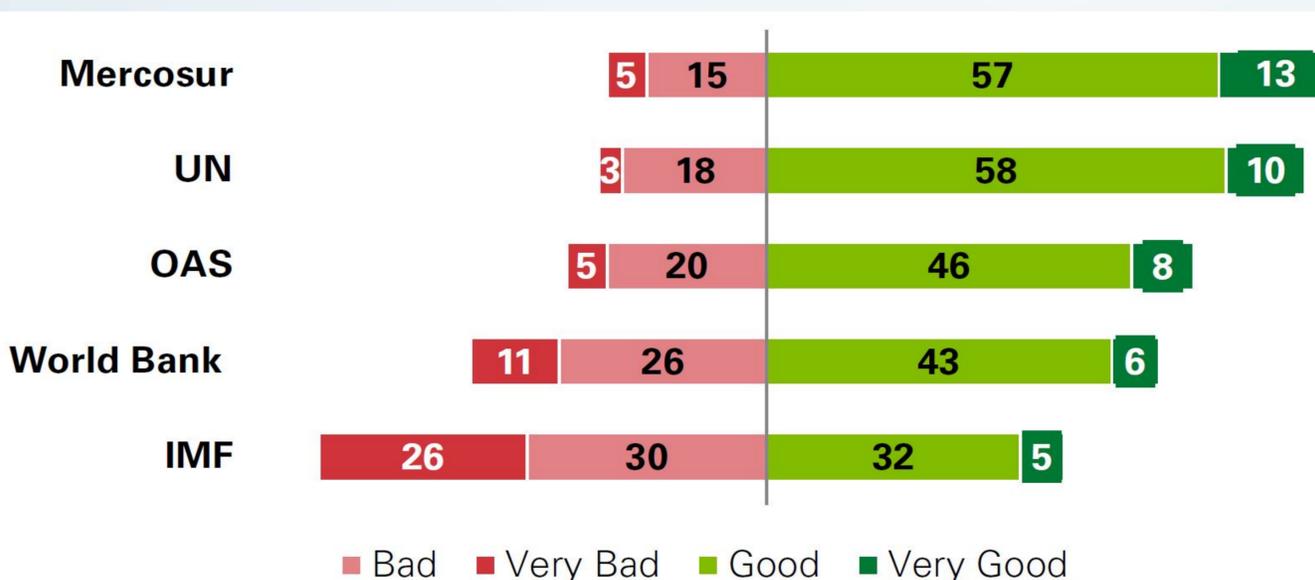

national security

national values

NEGATIVE POSITIVE

View of Multilateral Organizations

Mercosur and the United Nations are the organizations ranked highest among Argentines; the International Monetary Fund is the lowest.