Dear Conference Participants:

We are pleased to present this document reader, intended to facilitate the discussions at the upcoming conference “NATO, the Warsaw Pact and the Rise of Détente, 1965-1972,” to be held in Dubbiaco 26-28 September 2002. The two volumes, together with the companion CD-Rom, consist of recently declassified documents from US, British and Eastern European archives which we hope will shed new light on contentious points, provide context, and stimulate the discussions at the conference.

This collection, the product of an intense research effort by the Cold War International History Project and contributions from participants, is by no means comprehensive and in many ways merely touches the surface. In selecting the documents, the editors have made an effort to include some of the most relevant materials that have been recently declassified at the U.S. National Archives. We have divided the reader into two volumes and have organized it around the major themes of the conference.

In compiling these documents the editors have received special assistance from William Burr of the National Security Archive, both in terms of advice and documents he contributed. For their contributions to the reader, we would like to thank: Ruud van Dijk, Marilena Gala, Isabella Ginor, Jeffrey Kimball, Anna Locher, Vojtech Mastny, Christian Nünlist, Ilaria Poggiolini, and Robert Wampler. We would also like to extend special thanks to the CWIHP research assistants Delaney Andersen and John Solomon for their help with the research at NARA II-Nixon Presidential Materials, and all the time they spent in the pre-production stage of this reader. We would also like to thank CWIHP research assistants Leslie Dubeck, Molly Gerber, Nick de la Graza, Hyunah Kim, and Jessica Meyers, who spent many hours at the National Archives at College Park researching in the Nixon Presidential Materials.

We are especially grateful to the sponsors and organizers of the conference, the Machiavelli Center for Cold War Study, and the co-sponsoring institutions, the Cold War International History Project at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, the Miller Center for Public Affairs and the Parallel History Project for NATO and the Warsaw Pact. The production of this reader would not have been possible without funding from the Machiavelli Center and the generous support by Ennio di Nolfo and Leopoldo Nuti.
