Residents of all group-living facilities, all healthcare workers, adults over 60, all adults from indigenous communities, adults from marginalized communities, and frontline essential workers.

Note: These figures include both first and second doses of the vaccine, so the number of doses may be higher than the number of people receiving doses.

New COVID-19 Cases and Deaths per 1 Million People

Comparison of COVID-19 Vaccination Efforts

Vaccination Progress in Canada, Mexico, and the United States As of March 3, 2021

Delivered, not Applied (62.7%)
Administered Vaccines (37.3%)

Delivered, not Applied (56.55%)
Administered Vaccines (43.45%)

Delivered, not Applied (61%)
Administered Vaccines (39%)

Percentage of Vaccinated Administered
Percentage of Country Fully Vaccinated

Currently Approved Vaccines

Willingness to get the Vaccine*

Agreement with the Statement: “If a vaccine for COVID-19 were available, I would get it.”

Vaccine Doses per 100 People

Groups

Stage 1
People with underlying medical conditions, adults over 70, healthcare workers, and non-frontline essential workers.

Stage 2
People with underlying medical conditions, adults over 50, and non-frontline essential workers.

Stage 3
People with underlying medical conditions, adults over 30, and non-frontline essential workers.

Stage 4
People with underlying medical conditions, adults over 18, and non-frontline essential workers.

Stage 5
Rest of the population.

*As of January 2021

*Mexican statistics are updated as of 2/28/21, with data representing the number of vaccines administered of the total that have arrived in country.