

Bibliographic Guide to the Literature

The following bibliography is a compilation of all entries from the three previous Environmental Change and Security Project Reports and new additions from the last year. The Guide includes a wide range of publications, organized by theme, which relate to the various conceptions of environmental security. The sections are:

- A. Environment and Security: General Debate & Definitions;
- B. Redefining Security: Articles Mentioning the Environment;
- C. Environment as a Security Threat to a Nation's Health, Economy or Quality of Life
- D. Environment as a Contributing Factor to Political Instability and/or Violent Conflict
- E. The Intelligence Community and the Environment
- F. Environmental Effects of War and Preparations for War
- G. Official U.S. Statements Relating Environment to Security Issues or Security Institutions
- H. Population, Environment and Security
- I. Environmental Security and Migration

The Environmental Change and Security Project will continue to publish updates to this bibliography; we welcome suggestions regarding citations to include. Entries are formatted according to Kate L. Turabian's Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses and Dissertations.
