Building a Partnership with Mexico

• U.S.-Mexico ties touch more lives daily than any other country in the world, via trade, border connections, tourism, and family ties.

• There are an estimated 35 million U.S. citizens of Mexican heritage.

• We have a common 1990-mile border (3,201 km) and a shared environment.

• Until January, government-to-government collaboration was unprecedented.
U.S.-Mexico Trade
US trades over 1 million per minute with Mexico

Exports
$ 262 billion

Imports
$ 317 billion

• Energy
• Judicial and Law Enforcement

More partnership with the U.S.
U.S.-Mexico High Level Economic Dialogue (HLED)

Agenda Items

• Improving border infrastructure, processes and waiting times
• Planning for transportation routes
• Energy standards and regulations
• More student and researcher exchanges
• Encouraging innovation
• Protecting the environment
• Involving border communities

Accomplishments

• Civil aviation agreement
• Infrastructure on the border
• Prioritizing future border infrastructure projects
• Pilot pre-inspection facilities for cargo
• Industry and business cluster maps
• Cooperation among Regulatory Authorities
• Energy Working Group
• Process for stakeholder input
Energy and the Environment

• Increased US investment in Mexico’s energy sector
• Increased US natural gas and gasoline sales to Mexico
• New dialogues between energy regulators
• North American Clean Energy and Environment Partnership:
  ✓ Set shared goal of 50% clean power generation by 2025
  ✓ Committed to reduce 40% - 45% methane emissions by 2025
  ✓ Promoting energy efficiency standards for vehicles and appliances
• U.S. and Mexico work to protect border environment, river basins, and endangered species

Investment in the Energy Sector

• Since Mexico’s Energy Reform, a number of U.S. companies have won exploration bids, and Pemex has signed joint operating agreements with Exxon Mobil, Chevron, Shell, etc.

• Exxon Mobil plans to invest $300 million in Mexico over the next 10 years.

• Sempra Energy will invest $800 million this year: $500 million will be invested in a pipeline project between Texas and the Mexican Gulf port of Tuxpan.

Efforts to Strengthen the Energy Sector

• In July 2017, Secretary Perry met with Secretary Coldwell to promote cross-border electricity trade and investment with Mexico.

• US and Mexico agreed to work on expanding cross-border energy infrastructure and to encourage the use of nuclear energy.
Border Management
Licit and Illicit Flows
Moving from blame to “shared responsibilities”

• Making the border more open to legitimate trade and commerce

• Working to harmonize and align the three countries’ customs regulatory framework to move towards a North American single customs platform

• New mechanisms to communicate and coordinate about countering illicit trade and travel

• Steps to increase security and reduce cross-border violence

• New program to share information on border crossers via shared radio-frequency identification system

• Working to create a Trilateral Trusted Traveler Program

Migrant Flows
Since 2007, the number of unauthorized Mexican immigrants has dropped by 1.3 million.
In FY 2016, the number of apprehensions of Mexican unauthorized immigrants declined 15% from FY 2014.

Efforts to address Central American migration

The Conference on Prosperity and Security in Central America was hosted by the U.S. and Mexico

Commitments
- The U.S. Administration’s FY 2018 budget request includes $460 million to address economic, security, and governance challenges in the Northern Triangle (NT).
- The NT committed to support a migration observatory supported by the U.S. to study and share information on regional migration flows.
- The NT and the US agreed to improve information sharing and local capacity building to combat transnational criminal organizations.
- Mexico has approved $53 million for three NT infrastructure projects.
- The U.S., Mexican, and NT governments agreed to follow up these commitments.

5 WAYS TO IMPROVE NAFTA

U.S. withdrawal from NAFTA would be incredibly costly.

However, these 5 updates to the agreement could favor both U.S. competitiveness and American workers:

1. Account for recent technological advances.
   Now that the Internet and smartphones are everyday tools of business and commerce, issues such as cross-border data flows and exports of digital products should be included in updates of the agreement.

2. Revise customs processes and requirements.
   Simplifying customs rules and paperwork would make it easier for small U.S. businesses to take advantage of new online platforms, like Amazon and Etsy, that have made it easier to venture into foreign trade and find buyers abroad.

3. Update NAFTA’s rules of origin.
   NAFTA includes rules about what percentage of a product must be produced within North America in order to enter the U.S., Mexico, or Canada tariff-free. A detailed analysis should be done to determine how these rules could be strengthened to incentivize investment and job growth in the U.S.

4. Strengthen the NAFTA side agreement on labor rights.
   While the countries of North America have already agreed to abide by their own labor laws in a NAFTA side agreement, incorporating labor issues into NAFTA itself could better ensure that companies don’t leave the U.S. in an effort to avoid the cost of respecting workers’ rights.

5. Eliminate obstacles to service exports.
   Since the U.S. has an advantage in the high skill industries that make up much of services trade, like financial and educational services, special emphasis should be placed on eliminating obstacles to these exports.

Further protection of U.S. workers requires investment in workforce development:

U.S. Business on NAFTA Modernization

• Address Digital Commerce including free cross-border data flows
• Stronger, modern intellectual property rights and enforcement
• Eliminate any tariffs for agriculture; update sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) standards
• Streamline Customs clearance process and ensure more transparency
• Improve treatment of express delivery services with higher de minimis shipment value
• Address distortionary practices regarding State Owned Enterprises
• Increased fairness and transparency in antitrust regulations
• Reduce regulatory and technical barriers; improve on-going regulatory cooperation and coordination
• Protect investments by maintaining investor-to-state dispute settlement (ISDS) mechanism
• Keep reciprocal access to public procurement markets
• Ensure rules of origin and related paperwork don’t discourage trade

U.S. Labor on NAFTA Modernization

• Disciplinary measures for currency manipulation
• Add stronger labor rules and enforcement mechanisms
• Add stronger environmental protections
• Stricter rules of origin on a range of manufactured goods
• Eliminate Investor-to-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) mechanism

Presentation to US-Mexico Border Mayors Association 7/17 Wilson Center
USTR NAFTA Renegotiation Objectives

Notable Additions

- Focus on reducing trade deficit
- Eliminate chapter 19 dispute settlement mechanism, and otherwise preserve the ability of the United States to enforce rigorously its trade laws
- Keep in place domestic preferential purchasing programs such as “Buy America” requirements on Federal assistance

Notable Exclusions/Ambiguities

- Does not eliminate Investor-to-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) mechanism
- Strengthen rules of origin “as necessary” and add incentives to ensure greater sourcing of products in US and North America

Presentation to US-Mexico Border Mayors Association 7/17 Wilson Center
Border Trade Alliance NAFTA Modernization Recommendations

• Eliminate rules of origin loopholes to stop non-regional components being imported duty-free
• Improve customs processing via a future North American Single Window
• Regional tariff numbering system for easier classification of goods and improved dispute settlement tool to resolve differences in goods classification
• Facilitate cross-border movement for business and professional purposes
• Improve cross-border trucking regime
• Develop coherent import-export system for maquiladoras
• Develop a NAFTA-wide single identifier for trading firms
• Establish a mechanism to improve cross-border, inter-agency coordination
• Provide North American private sector entities a forum for discussing emerging challenges
• Trilateral framework for developing border infrastructure
• Unified Cargo processing where US and Mexican customs personnel work side by side
• Improved cross-border financial transactions

A Stronger Partnership with Mexico

Presentation to US-Mexico Border Mayors Association 7/17 Wilson Center
Tasks Ahead from a Border Region Perspective

• NAFTA talks are an opportunity: Press for attention to border infrastructure and facilitation – use combined clout and coordinate priorities so a consistent chorus is heard by Congress, Governors, and Cabinet Secretaries.

• Border facilitation improvements: Build into NAFTA 2.0 a commitment to on-going bilateral work to improve border crossing times and procedures; trilateral work to adopt best practices, including consistent regulations, processes and rules.
Tasks Ahead from a Border Region Perspective

- Border Infrastructure: Build into NAFTA reference to the importance of maintaining modern border infrastructure and sufficient staffing.

- Seek the establishment of more efficient and better coordinated bi-national planning mechanisms, and trilateral planning where relevant, for example on transportation corridors.

- Develop federal, state and local strategies: Join voices in a border alliance to talk with the Federal governments about overall resource needs and policies that have effect all along the border. Get a bigger pie, then compete for bigger slices.
Tasks Ahead from a Border Region Perspective

- Economic development: Champion coordinated multi-year regional plans with local, State and Federal buy-in.
- Improve communication and coordination between local and federal governments of both sides of the border.
- Regularly bring together various stakeholders to share best practices, know-how and expertise.
- Institutionalize regional alliances and bilateral relationships to ensure continuity.
- Organize coordinated outreach plans – sell the economic and security importance of the border region.
U.S. – Mexico Tasks Ahead

• Update NAFTA: Serious, fact-based talks to agree on improvements
• Bilateral Security Cooperation:
  • Better manage migration from all countries
  • Better fight organized crime, including money and arms flows
• Bilateral Economic Cooperation:
  • Create a more efficient and secure border
  • Create institutions to further develop the complimentary nature of the two economies, creating jobs and improving global competitiveness
