PACT: Improving the Advancing Climate Transparency

WORLD RESOURCES INSTITUTE
THE FD2018 PROVIDES AN OPPORTUNITY TO:

- Assess the latest scientific information based on the IPCC Special Report on 1.5°C.
- Assess the adequacy of collective efforts and collective progress already made, including the efforts of non-state actors.
- Identify and share lessons learned.
- Identify specific opportunities to enhance ambition and accelerate implementation, including sectoral, high-mitigation potential, and/or regional opportunities.
- Naming and faming frontrunners.
- Align NDCs with long-term planning and development strategies.
- Build of major events such as the Global Climate Action Summit in California.
Keeping Momentum with Global Climate Action

The Marrakesh Partnership is a forum for all non-state and subnational actors (NSA) to engage collectively in international climate governance:

- In some countries, NSA play a much larger role in climate action than national governments and can progress more quickly.

- There will be a climate action summit in California in 2018 which may provide input to national governments and the FD2018 to showcase what can be done.

- Tracking of progress and accounting will be much more important moving forward.

- Empowering through the right governance process.
